

Predrag J. Marković

Ethnic Stereotypes: ubiquitous, local or migrating phenomena?

The Serbian-Albanian Case

Michael-Zikic-Stiftung

Southeast European Minorities Network – see MinoritiesNetwork

Predrag J. Marković, Ph.D. (*1965) is a Research Fellow at the Institute for Contemporary History in Belgrade, Serbia.

Copyright © by Michael-Zikic-Stiftung, Bonn 2003
Alle Rechte vorbehalten • All rights reserved

Published by Michael-Zikic-Stiftung, Universität Bonn
Lennéstr. 1, 53113 Bonn, Germany

Redaktion: Anke Hilbrenner, Milan Kosanović
Lektorat: Birgitt Volk

Gesamtherstellung: Druckerei der Universität Bonn

Printed in Germany 2003
ISBN 3-936928-09-6

Contents

1	Introduction	5
2	A History of Stereotype Studies	6
3	What to Do with Ethnic Stereotypes?	12
4	Stereotyping in History: Development of the Proto-Stereotype	21
5	The Imperialism of Stereotyping	26
5.1	The 20 th Century	27
5.2	The Contemporary World	28
6	Regional Interpretations of the Proto-Stereotype Concerning Ex-Yugoslavia	31
6.1	A Tag Play of the Proto-Stereotype Transfer During 1990s	35
6.2	Albanians – The Most Suitable Serbian Partner for the Stereotype Transfer	39
7	The History of the Contacts between Serbs and Albanians	41
7.1	The First Contacts	41
7.2	The Ottoman Times	42
7.3	A Development of the Proto-Stereotype in the Serbian-Albanian Context	46
7.4	1913 – A Short Lived Imperial Dream	56
7.5	Interwar Yugoslavia	62
7.6	The Second World War and the Communist Revolution	66
7.7	The Official Disappearance of the Albanian Stereotyping	68
8	Failed Integration	70
8.1	The Media Image of the Albanians in the Fifties and Sixties	71
8.2	The Friend Istref – The Last Positive Albanian in the Serbian Literature	74
8.3	Barbarian Intruders and Savage Conquerors	75
8.4	Violent and Deviant Sexual Behavior	78
8.5	Destruction of Churches and Other Sanctuaries	79
8.6	Brutal Murders	80
8.7	„Animal” Fertility	81
8.8	A Closed Society with its own Traditional Moral Code (a Nation of „Mafiosi”)	82
9	Conclusions	83
10	Bibliography	86